After leaving West Point, Jerry attended and graduated from the City College of New York. He then became a Teacher of Social Studies and English. He attended and graduated from the New York University Law School. He began the practice of law as an Associate with the law firm of Panken & Panken. He became a Partner with the firm of Sakona & Ginsberg which eventually became Ginsberg, Katsorhis & Fedrizzi. He then became a Fulbright Scholar in Law at the Korean School of Law and became a Professor there. Jerry passed away on 26 March 2000.

Footnote from Jerry's family to West Point classmates and friends – "The road has been long, but we thought we could have traveled the road still longer with the support and love that each of you provided to our family individually and collectively.....We want to extend a thank-you for all you have done, whether you sent flowers, a charitable donation or went out of your way to travel a great distance to be with our family at the funeral. Regardless of the sentiment, each thoughtful act of kindness has touched each of us and has changed our lives forever. Our family is grateful and wishes to extend our most sincerest appreciation to each of you for your thoughtful ways. Sincerely, The family of Jerome M. Ginsberg. Kerre (wife), Grandma, Sandye, GiGi, Andy, Lynn, Josh, Ehtan, Peter, and Melanie."
